Sessions' briefer for participants

Day 1, 29 June 2021:

Session 1: Welcome & check-in

Time: 4:00 - 5:30 UTC

Objective: This session will introduce participants to the workshop and to each other. The aim of the session is to enable participants to get ready and dive into the workshop and help them understand the process or spaces where they will find the information they are looking for.

Session plan:

- Welcome from APC
- Introduction to the event - what the workshop will cover and what it won't
- Introduction to fellow participants
- Spaces and materials where we can find information
- Logistics for the week
- Rules of engagement
- Opportunities to collaborate in the future

Facilitators: Pavitra Ramanujam & Gayatri Khandhadai

Session 2: Introduction to international advocacy

Time: 6:30 - 8:00 UTC

Objective: This session will introduce discussions for understanding policy advocacy. The aim is to enable participants to understand what international advocacy is and what its limits are. By the end of the session participants will have a better understanding of why policy advocacy is undertaken, where it has succeeded and when it has failed.

Session plan:

- Introduction to international advocacy - what is it?

- Who is it targeted toward?
- The relationship between national and international advocacy
- What have been some examples of successes? (case studies)
- How has the digital era impacted international advocacy spaces?
- What are the challenges one can expect to encounter when engaging in advocacy, especially during the Covid-19 pandemic?
- What are some limitations of international advocacy?
- Case studies of when it has not worked and why.

Resource person: Paula Martins

Session 3: Stakeholder mapping & understanding the landscape

Time: 9:00 - 10:30 UTC

Objective: This session will help participants understand the importance of multistakeholderism and to identify the different stakeholders involved in policy advocacy. By studying the stakeholders and their interests, participants will also be able to understand the actors in the landscape in which they will engage.

Session plan:

- What is multistakeholderism?
- Examples of multi stakeholder processes and progress achieved through them
- Multi Stakeholder vs. Multilateral spaces
- Who are the key stakeholders?
- What are their interests and pressure points?
- How do we engage with the different stakeholders?

Resource person: Verengai Mabika

Day 2, 30 June 2021:

Session 4: Treaties, instruments and standards: A baseline for international advocacy

Time: 4:00 - 5:30 UTC

Objective: This session will introduce participants to key documents that help lay out the standards for digital rights. They form the basis of all forms of international advocacy. Through this session, participants will be equipped with knowledge on the types of instruments and standards they set out as the basis for advocating for change.

Session plan:

- Kinds of instruments that set out the standards for digital rights:
 - Instruments and their enforceability (treaties, declarations, resolutions and general comments)
 - Other documents (ex. Universal Periodic Review (UPR) reports, UN Special Rapporteur reports and Office of the High Commissioner for Human Rights (OHCHR) reports)
- Instruments to use:
 - Digital rights - Universal Declaration of Human Rights (UDHR), International Covenant for Civil and Political Rights (ICCPR), International Covenant for Economic Social and Cultural Rights (ICESCR), Rabat Plan of Action
 - Gender rights - Convention on the Elimination of all forms of Discrimination Against Women (CEDAW)
 - Infrastructure - International Telecommunications Union (ITU) documentation, ICESCR (right to scientific development)
- Soft standards for specific issues

Resource person: Sheetal Kumar

Session 5: The UN ecosystem: An overview

Time: 6:30 - 8:00 UTC

Objective: This session will provide an overview of the different spaces available in the UN ecosystem. Understanding these spaces will help the participants identify spaces where they want to advocate on digital rights. Through looking at examples of important standards these spaces have created or instances of success, participants will be aided in modelling their advocacy. Limitations or failures of these spaces will help us understand areas that need more work.

Session plan:

- UN ecosystem

- General Assembly (GA)
 - Internet Governance Forum (IGF)
 - International Telecommunications Union (ITU)
 - Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs)
 - Gender - Commission on the Status of Women (CSW)
 - World Trade Organisation (WTO)
- Which spaces can you be at?
 - UN interaction with regional bodies and other institutions (like the Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD)) - upcoming sessions
 - Successes for the digital rights movement at the UN
 - Challenges in engaging with these spaces

Resource person: Deborah Brown

Session 6: Engaging with Human Rights mechanisms at the UN

Time: 9:00 - 10:30 UTC

Objective: In continuation of the previous session, this session will focus on human rights spaces in the UN ecosystem. By enabling participants to understand the human rights spaces in the UN, the session will help them gear up for targeted advocacy. Discussion on effective engagement in each of these unique processes will be undertaken through looking at specific examples of cases and the array of types of interventions possible.

Session plan:

- Treaty bodies
 - What are the relevant treaty bodies and what can they do?
 - Submissions and advocacy with treaty bodies
- Human Rights Council (HRC)
 - Sessions at the HRC and what can we do?
 - UPR and how to engage?
 - Special Procedures
- OHCHR
 - Their engagement with digital rights
- What kind of interventions can you make?
 - Participation in negotiation of norms (resolutions)
 - Statements - written and oral
 - Bilateral meetings

- Side-events
- Submissions and shadow reports to UNSR, UPR, TBs

Resource person: Sarah Brooks

Day 3, 1 July 2021:

Session 7: Internet governance & digital cooperation

Time: 4:00 - 5:30 UTC

Objective: This session will build on the discussions around multistakeholderism and look at how internet governance spaces can be used for advocacy. Specific emphasis will be given to the Roadmap For Digital Cooperation process and the Internet Governance Forum. Effective ways to engage in these processes will help participants identify where they can place themselves to advocate.

Session plan:

- Road map for digital cooperation
 - What is the Roadmap and what are the key areas it covers?
 - How and why was it created?
 - How is it being implemented?
- Internet Governance Forum (IGF)
 - What is the IGF?
 - How to engage in the IGF and how can we shape the agenda?
 - Inter-sessional work at the IGF through Best Practice Forums (BPF) and Dynamic Coalitions (DC)
 - Asia Pacific Regional IGF (APrIGF), sub-regional IGFs and national IGFs - their relationship
 - Reflection about the IGF, future and how to strengthen it?

Resource person: Anriette Esterhuysen

Session 8: Telecom & internet infrastructure advocacy

Time: 6:30 - 8:00 UTC

Objective: This session will help us understand global technical and telecommunication spaces. These spaces are critical for standard setting and cooperation, by understanding how they function participants will be able to develop skills around engaging them. Looking at the limitations these spaces have and the challenges that civil society has faced in working with them will help us identify areas that need more attention.

Session plan:

- What technical and telecommunication spaces are available for advocacy and what do they focus on?
 - Internet Corporation for Assigned Names and Numbers (ICANN)
 - Asia Pacific Network Information Centre (APNIC)
 - Internet Engineering Task Force (IETF)
 - Internet Telecommunications Union (ITU)
 - World Summit on the Information Society (WSIS)
 - Global Symposium for Regulators
 - Global Network Initiative (GNI)
- What is possible in these spaces?
- Who can engage in these spaces?
- How to engage with the technical community?
- Technical skills - is it a must?
- What are the limitations or challenges faced in engaging these spaces?

Resource person: Avri Doria

Session 9: Policy advocacy to policy change: LocNet's experience on what works

Time: 9:00 - 10:30 UTC

Objective: This session is tailored to understand practical developments seen through consistent policy advocacy in telecommunication spaces. This is done by looking at how the LocNet initiative worked on regulatory frameworks on community networks in international spaces. Participants will be engaged in discussions around elements behind a long-term policy advocacy strategy that is starting to create tangible policy change for community networks.

Session plan:

- What is LocNet and what are community networks?
- How and why did LocNet start and are progressing on policy work especially on technical regulatory work
- Working with telecommunication regulators
- What are the different areas of work for Policy Advocacy in LocNet?

- Rationale behind them
- Objectives
- Results obtained thus far
- Lessons learned

- What are the advocacy spaces at the international level for telecom policy?
- What have been the most successful changes and what are the challenges?
- Next steps and feedback to make it work in Asia

Resource person: Carlos Rey Moreno

Day 4, 2 July 2021:

Session 10: Integrating gender into the global digital rights agenda

Time: 4:00 - 5:30 UTC

Objective: This session will work towards helping participants understand and develop gender perspectives to policy advocacy. While the session will address gender specific advocacy spaces, it will also introduce ways to incorporate gender perspectives and experiences in other advocacy initiatives. The successes, especially what it took to get there and challenges or limitations will help the participants shape and influence their initiatives in the future.

Session plan:

- Why does gender matter in digital rights policy advocacy?
- Importance of linking women's rights advocacy to digital rights advocacy (language, issues, intersectionality and allyship)
- Thematic issues (eg surveillance, access, sexuality, online gender based violence (GBV), expression and association)
- Challenges and opportunities of 'doing gender' in digital rights advocacy
- Actors / allies / networks for engaging in advocacy
- Spaces (eg CEDAW and others)
- Example of successful advocacy - Case study on online gender based violence and the 10 years of advocacy (and multi-pronged strategy) it took to get the resolution on violence against women and girls in a digital age
- How can we incorporate gender perspectives in all policy advocacy initiatives?

Resource person: Pooja Badrinath

Session 11: Hacking international advocacy: Strategies for effective engagement

Time: 6:30 - 8:00 UTC

Objective: This session will tie up all the discussions in the previous days and move towards developing key strategies to engage in advocacy. In this practice based session, the participants will be looking at elements involved in developing responsive strategies for engaging in effective international advocacy. Moving from strategy, the session will also discuss building networks and identifying key components of different documents to be prepared for advocacy.

Session plan:

- Why is it necessary to develop a strategy for international advocacy?
- What are the key elements that a strategy must hold?
- What kinds of documentation would be necessary to engage in international advocacy?
- Elements for written submissions, policy briefers and statements
- Who are the actors that we can reach out to for support and networking?
- Communication and campaigning in international advocacy

Resource person: Gayatri Khandhadai

Thursday, 1 July, 2021 [9:00 - 10:30 UTC]

Objective: This session is tailored to understand practical developments seen through consistent policy advocacy in telecommunication spaces. This is done by looking at how the LocNet initiative worked on regulatory frameworks on community networks in international spaces. Participants will be engaged in discussions around elements behind a long-term policy advocacy strategy that is starting to create tangible policy change for community networks.

Session plan:

- What is LocNet and what are community networks?
- How and why did LocNet start and are progressing on policy work especially on technical regulatory work
- Working with telecommunication regulators
- What are the different areas of work for Policy Advocacy in LocNet?
 - Rationale behind them
 - Objectives
 - Results obtained thus far
 - Lessons learned
- What are the advocacy spaces at the international level for telecom policy?
- What have been the most successful changes and what are the challenges?
- Next steps and feedback to make it work in Asia

Day 4 | Session 10:

Integrating gender into the global digital rights agenda

Friday, 2 July, 2021 [4:00 - 5:30 UTC]

Objective: This session will work towards helping participants understand and develop gender perspectives to policy advocacy. While the session will address gender specific advocacy spaces, it will also introduce ways to incorporate gender perspectives and experiences in other advocacy initiatives. The successes, especially what it took to get there and challenges or limitations will help the participants shape and influence their initiatives in the future.

Session plan:

- Why does gender matter in digital rights policy advocacy?
- Importance of linking women's rights advocacy to digital rights advocacy (language, issues, intersectionality and allyship)
- Thematic issues (eg surveillance, access, sexuality, online gender based violence (GBV), expression and association)
- Challenges and opportunities of 'doing gender' in digital rights advocacy
- Actors / allies / networks for engaging in advocacy
- Spaces (eg CEDAW and others)
- Example of successful advocacy - Case study on online gender based violence and the 10 years of advocacy (and multi-pronged strategy) it took to get the resolution on violence against women and girls in a digital age
- How can we incorporate gender perspectives in all policy advocacy initiatives?

Day 4 | Session 11: Hacking international advocacy: Strategies for effective engagement

Friday, 2 July, 2021 [6:30 - 8:00 UTC]

Objective: This session will tie up all the discussions in the previous days and move towards developing key strategies to engage in advocacy. In this practice based session, the participants will be looking at elements involved in developing responsive strategies for engaging in effective international advocacy. Moving from strategy, the session will also discuss building networks and identifying key components of different documents to be prepared for advocacy.

Session plan:

- Why is it necessary to develop a strategy for international advocacy?
- What are the key elements that a strategy must hold?
- What kinds of documentation would be necessary to engage in international advocacy?
- Elements for written submissions, policy briefers and statements
- Who are the actors that we can reach out to for support and networking?
- Communication and campaigning in international advocacy

Workshop policies & governing rules

Code of conduct and principles of participation

The Association for Progressive Communications is committed to providing a safe and welcoming environment for discussing issues related to its community. The APC Community comprises members of the network, all APC staff and team and its larger network of partners, friends and allies.

The code of conduct and ground rules apply to this meeting, all APC hosted events, conference-related social events, such as parties or gatherings at restaurants or bars and spaces, and includes our mailing lists, wikis, platforms, websites and any other spaces that APC hosts, both online and off. Participants are responsible for knowing and abiding by these guidelines. In this event, the code applies to anyone who is part of the event, which includes organisers, resource persons, participants and performers.

All APC meetings, virtual and physical meetings, are intended to be SAFE spaces and we ask participants to be guided by the following:

- | Be respectful

- | Listen actively

- | Be respectful of others' views even when you disagree

- | Be collaborative

- | Recognise diversity

- | Respect privacy of participants

- | Ask for consent for photography, audio-visual recordings or quotes

- | Be aware of language diversity

- | Handle disagreement constructively

|Act fairly, honestly, and in good faith with other participants

It is vital that discussions include and acknowledge a diversity of opinions and experiences, and that the community does not tolerate harassment of any kind.

We expect the members of the APC community to treat one another with respect and to acknowledge that everyone can make a valuable contribution. We may not always agree, but the space and conversation must always have openness to positions that may not be aligned or in agreement. Frustration cannot turn into a personal attack. It's important to remember that a community where people feel uncomfortable or threatened is not a productive one, and that the meeting conduct and ground rules are anchored in the APC values we have all committed to uphold. It is our collective responsibility to ensure that we create a safe, creative, productive and welcoming space that can hold us in all of our diversity.

We will take action in response to harassment related to gender, gender identity and expression, sexual orientation, disability, physical appearance, body size, race, nationality, caste, ethnicity or religion. APC does not tolerate harassment of participants in any form.

Definitions

Harassment

includes, but is not limited to:

- Offensive comments related to gender, gender identity and expression, sexual orientation, disability, mental illness, neuro(a)typicality, physical appearance, body size, race, caste, ethnicity or religion.
- Unwelcome comments regarding a person's lifestyle choices and practices, including those related to food, health, parenting, drugs, and employment.
- Physical contact and simulated physical contact without consent or after a request to stop.
- Deliberate intimidation.
- Sustained disruption of discussion.
- Continued one-on-one communication after requests to cease.
- Sexual harassment

Sexual harassment

is a broad term. For the purposes of this event it is defined as:

Any unwelcome sexual advance in the form of words, images, gestures or physical contact in physical, digital or communication spaces which may reasonably be expected, or be perceived, to cause distress, intimidation, fear, humiliation, or harm to another. The term also covers any request for a sexual favour, or a threat of a sexual nature. Sexual harassment may occur in any space, including the workplace. This includes activities of face-to-face meetings, virtual meetings and digital communication of all kinds. It can be a one-time incident or a series of incidents. Sexual harassment may be unintended, deliberate, or coercive. Sexual harassment may occur both within formal working hours and spaces, and outside these. Men, women, transitioning and transgender individuals may be victims or offenders.

Sexual harassment may result in discrimination, and it may create a hostile working environment. Other forms of behaviour which cause discrimination, fear, and/or a hostile working environment may be implicated in sexual harassment, such as harassment based on race, gender, sexuality, national origin, physical appearance, age, ancestry, disability, economic disparity, nationality, or religious or spiritual beliefs. APC recognises that APC's staff members, partners and event participants are from diverse contexts, and that sexual harassment experiences are embedded within the cultural, social, historical and personal contexts.

“ Sexual harassment should not be confused with unintentional careless communication in a diverse working environment, or with our efforts to create a working culture which is open to conversations on sexuality and human rights.

We understand that the impact of sexual harassment on APC's working culture can be highly destructive, and we understand the harmful impact of sexual harassment on any person's work, mind and body.

Examples of sexual harassment include (but are not limited to):

- Gratuitous or off-topic sexual images or behaviour in spaces where they are not appropriate.
- Unwelcome sharing of sexualised content in visual, audio or text form
- Deliberate stalking, following or intimidation, online and/or offline
- Harassing photography, video or audio recording
- Inappropriate and/or unwanted physical contact
- Unwelcome sexual attention, in any form of communication
- Requests for sexual favours, verbal or physical contact of a sexual nature in exchange for an opportunity
- Threats, either explicit or implicit, to withdraw an opportunity or resources unless sexual contact and/or communication is permitted

- Advocating for, or encouraging, any of the above behaviour.

If you believe you have been harassed, or notice that someone else is being harassed, or have any other concerns, you are encouraged to raise your concerns in confidence to the Event Incidents Team.

APC commits that each case will be considered, and concrete actions will be taken as appropriate.

Please refer to APC's sexual harassment policy for how APC responds to sexual harassment.

Code of Conduct and Anti-Harassment Policy Response Process

If you are being harassed by a member of the community or a participant or organiser at the conference, or have any other concerns, please contact a member of the Event Incidents Team.

When a complaint is made or an incident occurs that breaches this code, the Event Incidents Team will confidentially review and respond to any participant who has experienced harassment or inappropriate behavior.

If the person who is harassing you is on the Event Incidents Team, they will recuse themselves from handling your incident. If the person who is harassing you is a member of the organising team, they will not receive differential treatment than any other participant in the handling of the complaint.

We will try to respond as promptly to complaints as we can. These steps will be taken once you make a complaint:

1. One or more members of the Event Incidents team will discuss the issue with you.
2. They may take notes, with your consent, of what you say.
3. One or more members of the Events Incidents team will separately speak with the person(s) against whom the complaint is lodged.

4. The process will involve attaining resolution while ensuring safety, dignity and respect for everyone involved.

If a participant engages in harassing behavior, the Response Team may take any action they deem appropriate, up to and including expulsion from all APC spaces during the event, and identification of the participant as a harasser to other APC members or the general public. The Event Incidents team will prioritise marginalised people's safety over privileged people's comfort.

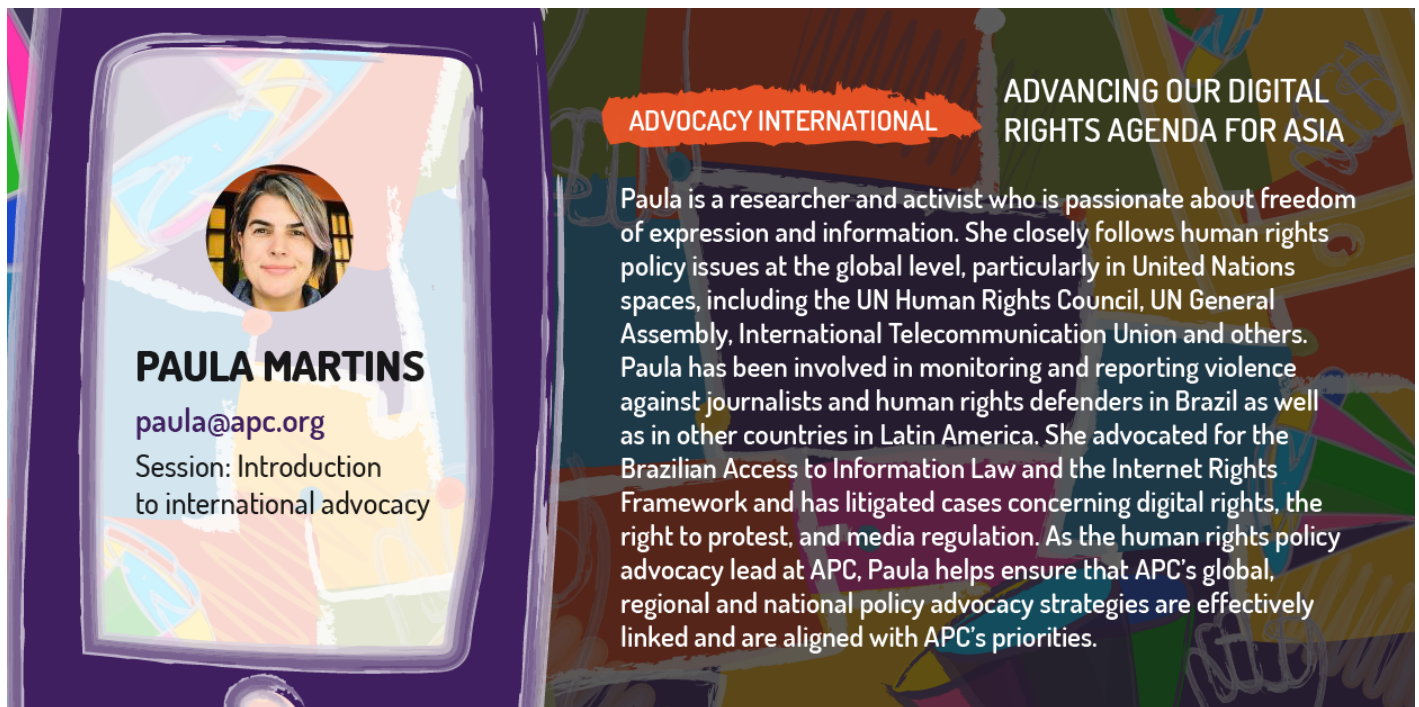

Any member of the Event Incidents Team can be contacted with any questions or concerns participants may have throughout the duration of an APC event. Anonymous complaints can be reported to the team on Telegram or submitted via email.

Names and contact information of the Event Incidents Team are as follows:

Carlos Rey-Moreno, after working in providing connectivity to remote health care centres in Latin America, has devoted the last eight years to studying, developing and supporting community networks around the world. As part of his PhD work he co-founded Zenzeleni Networks, zenzeleni.net, and studied the main drivers that could make a community network in rural South Africa sustainable and scalable. After obtaining his doctorate in 2015, he went on to study the common denominators across community networks in Africa, producing a seminal report on the topic, and co-organised the first five editions of the Summit of Community Networks in Africa. For the last four years he has been with the Association for Progressive Communications, where he co-leads its local access and community networks (LocNet) initiative, overseeing projects in Latin America, Africa and Asia. He also coordinates its policy and regulatory work to create a more enabling regulatory framework for local operators and community networks. As part of this work, he has provided training to regional regulatory associations and policy makers in Africa, authored reports and written submissions to public consultations on the topic, and participated frequently as a speaker and convener in internet governance and similar telecommunications policy forums.

Online Tools for Workshops and Interactivity

This document is a growing, living list of online platforms and tools we can use in workshops and meeting spaces to aid our facilitation by introducing interactive elements, spark conversation or simply present ideas in more visual or novel ways.

Tool/Platform	License	Description
Wekan Boards	FOSS (Self Hosted - Already up on APC servers)	Trello-like kanban board for cards. Supports markdown and is very customizable.
Loomio	FOSS (not up on APC servers yet)	Asynchronous participatory decision making and conversation tool
Miro	Freemium Proprietary	Very powerful and flexible online whiteboard and pinboard and more.
Padlet	Paid Proprietary	Useful for collecting ideas. Think mro with only stickies.
ExcaliDraw	FOSS (Paid Hosted)	Very pretty whiteboard, but no uploading of content. It's under active development.
Twiddla	FOSS (Free hosted)	Whiteboard with lots of fantastic features, allows annotation of entire websites and uploads. Dated interface with modern powers.
Coggle	Freemium Proprietary
MindMeister	Freemium Proprietary

Wisemapping	Free Online Hosted (FOSS)	Another mind mapping tool
DirectPoll	Free Proprietary	Super simple livepolling with animations.
Mentimeter	Paid	Very pretty live polls with charts and animations. Everything from wordclouds to graphs.
Pingo	Free Selfhosted (Coming to APC soon)	Start live polls in your browser, like mentimeter. More powerful, less pretty.
